Workshop on wetlands property ownership slated for Tuesday

By JUNE M. HEYDT

A workshop will be conducted on Aug. 9, at the Bay St. Louis Jr. High School Auditorium, at 202 North 2nd Street, Bay St. Louis concerning property ownership of the wetlands. It was announced at the Hancock County Board of Supervisors meeting Monday morning.

The announcement of the workshop was in a letter from Richard Leard, Bureau of Marine Resources, and read by Walter Gex, board attorney.

The letter mentioned the July 6 public hearing on the wetlands and indicated there was a great deal of confusion concerning the purpose for the hearing.

Leard said the hearing was to obtain public comments as to whether the wetlands use designation should be changed for certain areas of Hancock County in order to allow oil and gas exploration in environmentally sensitive areas. The procedure is part of the requirements of the Department of Wildlife Conservation regulations declared Leard.

Leard continued in the letter, "It was apparent during the meeting that the primary concern of those in attendance was property ownership rather than environmental concerns."

"Many people at the meeting seemed to feel that the State was moving to claim ownership of property which was heretofore privately held," said Leard in the letter.

The letter ended requesting Mike Necaise, chancery clerk, attend the workshop. It will be an informal meeting, the letter stated, and will be concerned solely with property ownership, the survey to determine the location of ordinary mean high tide, and the procedures which will be used by the State to lease such lands as it may own.

A. Dolph Kellar, District Two supervisor and president of the board said, "My feelings on what the state does are, I for one don't think the state can lease property that people have title to whether they've had title for one year or for 100 years."

Kellar continued, "The state came in and presumed that not many people were involved or owned much of the property."

Gex said, "They are going to attempt to claim all land below mean high tide whether people have a title to it or not." Bert Courge, District One supervisor, said, "How can they tell what is mean high tide? It's also a fact that the moon has an effect on tides."

In other business, the board officially named a committee to study the problems of beach maintenance and beach berm.

Committee members are, Larry Bennett, mayor of Bay St. Louis; John Longo, mayor of Waveland; James Head, executive director, Gulf Regional Planning and Development; Mike Smith, president, Advanced Developments, Inc. Larry Seal, engineer; Bob Landry; James DeBlanc, director, Port and Harbor Authority Commission; Geraldine Lang, Hancock County Concerned Citizens; Walter Gex, board attorney; and all members of the board of supervisors.

Also in other business, DeBlanc presented the operating budget for 1983-84 for the Port and Harbor Authority.

DeBlanc noted that this year's budget is approximately $4,000 less than last years.

The total budget for the year is $234,836, last years budget was $237,274.

In the budget there is an increase in telephone expense of $800 and a $7,350 decrease by the dropping of a clerk's position in clerical salaries.

Employee hospitalization went from $5,787 to $8,900.

In further business, Perry Barratts complaining about the flooding on 19th Street and Old Lazy River Road.

James Travirca, District Five supervisor said he will take funds from revenue sharing and black top the road in question. Travirca moved that the request be made a part of the board minutes.

WINNER CONGRATULATED—Larry August Ladner Jr., right, congratulates Edward D. Murtagh on his victory in the Hancock County Tax Collector-Assessor's race Tuesday night. Murtagh, the incumbent, received 6,139 votes, giving him 70 percent of those cast in the Democratic Primary election, with 2,617 going to Ladner. Murtagh is seeking his second full term as assessor-tax collector. He was first elected to fill the unexpired term of the late George Heitzmann in 1978. Ladner led in two of the 26 precincts in the county. Vote tallying for the state and county election was all done at the Hancock County Courthouse instead of each precinct as in the past with complete unofficial returns being announced in record time. ## Wastewater Authority OKs utility bill hike

By JUNE M. HEYDT

A motion to add $1.50 to sewage bills in the cities of Waveland and Bay St. Louis was approved Wednesday evening at the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District meeting.

The money will be used to pay the engineering fees of Ray Eaton of Lewis and Eaton Partnership, Architects, Engineers and Planners, who made the request for the funds in order to pay for engineering work done on updating wastewater facilities.

The fee will be paid in monthly installments for a period of a year starting in October.

John Longo Jr., mayor of Waveland, said, "I think this is a good plan because the people won't be hit all of a sudden with a much larger bill to pay."

The motion was accepted to draw up a contract between the district and Lewis Eaton engineers as progress payments on the upgrading project.

The funds will be paid back to the city when the federal grant money comes in, according to Longo.

Eaton and Lucien Gex, city attorney, will draw up a letter to be sent to citizens of both cities stating why their utility bills will be increased.

Eaton promised the board that the plans and specifications for the facility will be ready in March.

After the Bureau of Pollution Control revises the Gulf Regional 208 Plan a joint public hearing will be held on final plans and costs, added Longo.

The cities will then be prepared to apply for federal grant money to help finance the project.

The district is hoping to receive 75 percent of the funding from the government.

Longo said the whole project will cost approximately $3 million dollars.

Five local skippers place in Flying Scot top ten

By JUNE M. HEYDT

The awards banquet conducted Friday night at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club brought to a close a week of competitive sailing for the Flying Scot North American Championship.

The 75 boat fleet, after a tune-up race and qualifying series split into two divisions and sailed five races to determine a champion and challenger winner.

Bubby Eagan, a sailor for Bay-Waveland Yacht Club for the past 15 years, captured the Champion title with a low score of 11.75 points and received the Gordon K. Douglas Trophy.

Marc Eagan, Regatta chairman, a past champion, crew and brother of Eagan said, "The 17.75 point spread between first and second place proves Bubby's ability to sail the Scot. It is not necessary to win races during the series, it is necessary to remain consistent and in the top."

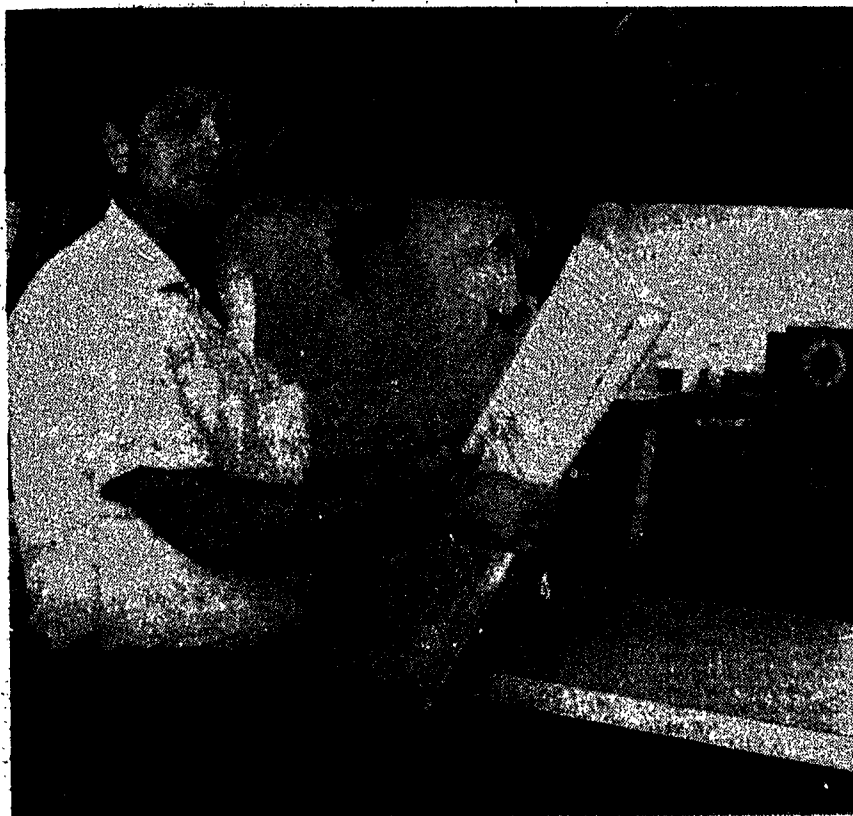

Eagan becomes the 13th person to hold the Flying Scot North American Championship since 1959.

Five local skippers placed in the top ten positions. Dennis Stieffel and crew Liz Merrifield and Janet Gordon were fourth. Randy Santa Cruz, with John Levy as crew, was sixth. Rod Stieffel, and crew Watt Duffy were eighth and Corky Hadden with Bryan Cromwell and Page Murphy placed ninth.

Second place winner and another past champion, was Andy Fox, Orlando, Fla., Larry Taggart of New Orleans, La. placed third.

In the challenger division, Bob Schneider of Bayville, N.J. and his

Council bucks consultant's ordinance correction advice

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Bay St. Louis City Council at a Thursday night meeting bucked the advice of a consultant hired to correct erroneous city zoning ordinances in refusing to place a commercial classification on US-90 property owned by renowned jazz clarinetist Pete Fountain.

At a previous council meeting, the officials accepted 52 out of 53 recommendations by Jules Lagarde, a Bay St. Louis architect, which he formulated to correct discrepancies in zoning regulations of the City Planning and Zoning Commission, formed in 1964.

The tabled Lagarde recommendation, No. 13, which suggested the council classify property northwest of the intersection of the highway and Second Street and the now vacant Fountain lots south of US-90 and on Beach Boulevard, as commercial land.

But the council Thursday night prompted by a motion offered by Ward Two Councilman James Thriffley agreed to only designate the Second Street land as commercial, but to leave the Fountain property as a residential area for multi-family dwellings.

Fountain is reportedly planning to build condominiums on his highway property at the foot of the Bay of St. Louis bridge which would comply with the multi-family residential (R-3) classification the council maintained.

Thriffley said the minutes of the then Bay Board of Commissioners approving the commercial designations were not signed and contained errors in Fountain property lot numbers.

The minutes of the commissioners' meeting in a single motion direct rezoning of both parcels as commercial property.

Lagarde, in response to Thriffley, contended, "This goes against the spirit of what the city commissioners did and Fountain land should be designated C3. There were no errors in lot numbers in the zoning commission's minutes."

"It's not a question of whether I'm for or against Pete Fountain, the recommendations are designed to correct a number of errors found," he stated.

"I don't think it's fair to go back and do something just because they didn't sign the minutes," Lagarde added.

Joseph Gex, city attorney, stated, "I've seen two sets of lot numbers, but I'm not familiar with the planning and zoning commission minutes."

"I think it's going to be what it is," he added. Thriffley remarked, "Let sleeping dogs lie."

JOBS PROGRAM

The council also approved a recommendation by Ron Murray Consultants, Inc. of Bay St. Louis allowing the firm to seek a Small Cities Community Development Jobs Bill Block Grant.

In addition, a Tuesday hearing at 6 p.m. is scheduled at City Hall to obtain citizen comments regarding the proposed project.

Ron Murray, company president, said Friday that the project will allow the hiring of about 10 unskilled workers for 12 to 18 months to perform gas line renovation and drainage work.

Planning and Zoning Commission to meet

By JUNE M. HEYDT

The Planning and Zoning Commission will meet Tuesday, Aug. 9 to review a new up-to-date zoning map that will be presented by architect Jules Lagarde.

C.C. McDonald, commission chairman, said, "If we don't find anything wrong with the new zoning map, no discrepancies or errors, and it is approved, this will clear the deck to set a date for a public hearing on the beach front ordinance."

The beach front ordinance prohibits commercial construction on the beach front except for the property owned by the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, the American Legion, and the Central Business District, which includes the area from the old Merchants Insurance Building to the north side of the Maurice Colly property.

The one exception is Pete Fountain's property which is already zoned highway commercial C-3, said McDonald.

McDonald also noted that the ordinance does not mean that the yacht club, or any of the other commercially zoned property owners can build whatever they want to. Anything built on the beach must be approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission and the Bay St. Louis City Council.

Murray indicted on fraud charges

By JUNE M. HEYDT

A Hancock County Grand Jury has indicted Donn Murray on charges of fraud upon the City of Bay St. Louis.

Murray was indicted earlier this year on charges of fraud and conspiracy but the charges were dropped because of a statute of limitations, the Speedy Trial Act, requiring that prosecution be within two years of committing the alleged crime.

Murray is charged with securing the services of a carpenter to perform work on the residence of Larry Bennett, mayor of Bay St. Louis in the summer of 1978.

The charges state that a carpenter listed as an employee under a contract for work on the streets of the city was being paid by the city and that the materials he used on the home of Larry Bennett were purchased under the false and fraudulent representation that the labor and materials were authorized expenditures under the city contract.

The charges further state that Murray knew at the time that the materials and labor were not authorized expenditures under the contract for work on the streets of the city.

Murray is employed by Broadway and Seal, engineers of record for Hancock County Board of Supervisors. He also serves as inspector for Bay St. Louis street projects and is the building inspector for the Hancock County Planning Commission.

Murray was booked at the Hancock County Jail Friday and released under a $5,000 property bond secured by his son, Ron Murray.

Evelyn Gandy says:

Agency streamlining needed to solve state budget woes

By WAYNE DUCOMBE JR.

Gubernatorial candidate Evelyn Gandy said Thursday in Gulfport that as governor she would solve state financial problems by streamlining state agencies.

Gandy will face State Attorney General Bill Allain in the Aug. 23 Democratic Runoff.

In the Tuesday Democratic Primary, Gandy in the statewide vote edged Allain, but along the Gulf Coast and in Hancock County she topped Allain by an almost 2-1 margin.

Legislative Rep. J.P. Compretta of Hancock reported Friday that high unemployment produced by the ongoing recession has drastically reduced the state's primary income source—sales tax.

He explained the Mississippi Legislature balanced its 1983-84 budget by cutting funding to each state agency by 10 percent which resulted in a $200 million expenditure reduction.

Gandy, who served as Mississippi's first woman state treasurer from 1980 to 1984, pledged she would "bring about the best possible money management" by cutting state administrative costs and duplication of services.

She also noted the economy plays an important role in healthy state funding and hoped that situation would improve soon.

"If the economy doesn't pick up, my plans are to look at the entire tax structure and use experts to review the tax base," Gandy stated.

The gubernatorial hopeful said in her previous state positions—including concurrent four-year terms up until 1980 as state treasurer, insurance commissioner and lieutenant governor—she worked to eliminate state agency service duplications and reduced spending by some $98 million by "freezing unfilled vacancies."

In a press conference in Gulfport Thursday, Gandy said as governor she would strive for improved education, more jobs and better senior citizen health care.

Gandy said in all her state positions she helped lay the groundwork for the Educational Reform Act and improved vocational programs.

She reported better in-home health care for senior citizens is needed as well as shelters for battered spouses.

The candidate noted as lieutenant governor, while Cliff Finch was governor, she frequently served as acting state leader and handled emergency situations such as disaster aid after Hurricane Fredrick.

Gandy also reported as lieutenant governor she provided funds to restructure the former State Agriculture and Industrial Board and led political battles which resulted in removal of elected officials from state boards and commissions.

"I know the mechanics of state government," she stated regarding her diverse state-level political experience.

Gandy said she is the only candidate who knows what the governor's position entails because of her experience and is ready to go to work on the first day she's in office.

Regarding the probability that she will be the first woman governor of Mississippi, Gandy stated, "I'm proud to be a woman, but I run as a qualified candidate."

People have varied attitudes about the subject of third class mail. Some people do not want to receive any, some do not want some of it, but want only that which contain free samples, coupons or local sale circulars, while still others enjoy reading all types of unsolicited mail.

The Postal Service itself has changed its attitude regarding third class mail. It has in the last decade come to realize the beneficial impact that this type mail has on its operation. In the past, many employees, including managers, referred to this mail as 'junk' mail.

Tennis lessons to continue at Stanislaus

A new series of tennis lessons will be offered at the St. Stanislaus High School courts beginning Monday morning.

The program will continue for some three weeks or until school opens, according to Brother Pascal, director.

Beginners will meet from 8 to 9 a.m. Monday through Friday, and advanced students from 9 to 10 a.m., Brother reported.

Sheriff addresses Republican Women

Sheriff Ronnie Peterson addressed the regular meeting of the Hancock County Republican Women's Club Thursday at the Exmouth Lodge in Waveland.

Peterson and Investigator Alvin Ladner were introduced to some 50 members present by club president, Mrs. Delores Davis.

The sheriff discussed crime in Hancock County and the neighborhood watch program.

He and Ladner addressed the illegal drug problem and its impact on the county.

Then, several years ago as handling this mail began to show a profit, emphasis was directed to treating this mail with more respect and postal employees were instructed never to refer to it as 'junk' mail, but to call it either 'third class' mail or 'non-pref' (short for non-preferential) mail.

However, this term, too, seems to degrade this type of mail, so last month employees were instructed to refer to it as 'bulk business mail.'

Bulk business mail provides jobs for many people—printers, paper manufacturers, advertising agencies, advertising companies and their employees and others, plus postal employees themselves.

Many times this type of mail brings money into a community which otherwise would have been spent elsewhere.

In order to qualify for the lower postage rates, the mailers must properly prepare their mail before the USPS will accept it.

This preparation includes bundling, sacking and, in most cases, delivery to the acceptance unit of the accepting post office.

The mailer also must have his statement of mailing completed showing number of pieces, weight, permit number, and computed postage.

While this preparation may save the mailers a goodly sum in postage costs, it save the USPS even more money since most of the distribution costs have been borne by the mailer before it gets to the post office.

To further illustrate the importance of bulk business mail, the 1982 annual report of the postmaster general shows that $3.75 billion of 16.7 percent of the gross revenue was derived from Third Class Mail. This type of mail accounted for 32.2 percent of all mail handled by the Postal Service in 1982, amounting to a total of 36.9 billion pieces. This was a 9.3 percent increase over 1981.

These figures should help all of our customers and mailers to see that the Postal Service does count all mail as important and we try to see that you get the service to which you are entitled.

Quotables by CUEVAS

There seemed to have been several problems which developed early Tuesday morning at several polling places.

The voting system is new for several folks and everything should be ironed out by the second primary in two weeks.

One of the problems we heard mostly was the fact that there was a delay in voting as the polls were supposed to open at 7 a.m., but some were not on time or had everything ready for the electors.

Experience is always the best teacher, and the experience of one day should carry over to the second primary.

We would like to say on behalf of the poll workers that they had a lot of problems which developed by the recent redistricting, and this should be taken into consideration.

Overall we think everyone did a very good job.

It seems the oxidation pond is again acting up by creating some very foul odors.

We received a telephone call from Johnny Watzke of the Spanish Trail Supermarket telling us the odors were the worse ever on Thursday.

Watzke contacted Louis Fernandez of the State Board of Health who has supplied him with some complaint forms for residents to complete if they think they have a problem.

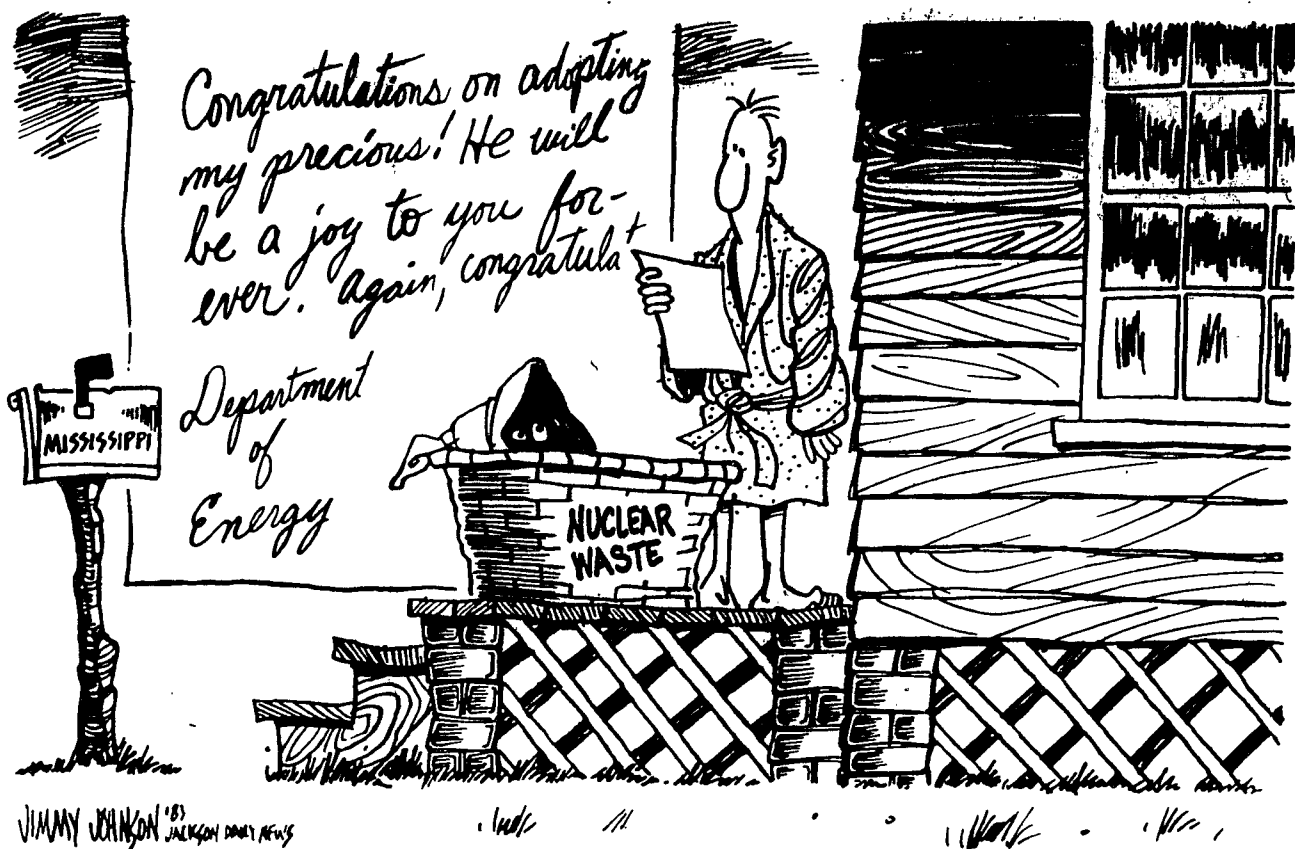

The oxidation pond comes under the Pollution Control Service, according to Fernandez. He said on Friday he would forward the complaints to the proper authorities if any were submitted.

We hope the problems can be solved, and possibly may have already been as Watzke said the smell was not as bad on Friday.

This is just a reminder about the Blood Drawing which is scheduled from 3 to 7 p.m. on Wednesday at the American Legion Home on Coleman Avenue, Waveland.

Every unit of blood drawn will be put to good use as the supply now on hand is very low.

We hope to see you at the Blood Drawing.

HGH emergency service rated as a 'positive experience'

August 1, 1983
Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor:
On July 16 I went to the emergency room of Hancock General Hospital for treatment of an injury.

I was tremendously impressed with the friendliness, caring, and thorough professionalism of each staff member who assisted me.

The atmosphere was quite different from other emergency rooms I had encountered elsewhere.

Dr. Bradford was especially person-oriented and professional.

I've been to other emergency rooms at various times, and never have I encountered a more positive experience than the one I had at Hancock General.

These days, when you seldom get good caring service anywhere anymore, I thought I should just write this short note to commend Hancock General Hospital.

Sincerely,
Robert M. Bock

County unit system will give taxpayers a better return on their investment

Dear Editor,
Recently Dwyne Mounger, a resident of Bay St. Louis, went before the Board of Supervisors and expressed his views concerning the county unit system versus the present system. He is to be commended for his effort in advocating the unit system.

The county unit system is a system where all funds and equipment are used jointly by all the supervisors. Less equipment would be needed with the unit system since all the supervisors would share the same equipment.

This would greatly decrease the funds needed to purchase expensive equipment. Presently each supervisor purchases his own equipment.

The unit system would be more efficient by centralizing the administration of funds, which would better ensure proper and fair expenditures.

This could be accomplished by hiring a bookkeeper to keep records and to maintain a system of checks and balances for all supervisors.

Presently there is no such system since each supervisor keeps his own records. Certainly none of the supervisors should object to a feasible system of checks and balances!

Our present board voted against implementing the unit system. As voters we should be concerned about the effective use of our tax dollars.

The Board of Supervisors should strongly reconsider the advantages of implementing the unit system for the good of the people. They should examine their personal reasons for not wanting it and be more open-minded to innovative ideas.

With the unit system the public will be able to see more evidence of what is being done with their tax dollars.

Lions Club's officers establish yearly priorities

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,
The Hancock County Lions Club held an installation banquet at the Siroin Stockade Wednesday, July 13, 1983, conducted by the immediate past district governor of the Mississippi Lions, "Dusty" Saucier.

Installed as president for the coming 1983-84 year was Edwin R. Ling; vice-president, Terry Simpson; treasurer, Wallace Bradley; secretary, Tim Whitworth; lion tamer, Joe Overal; tail twister, Al Jensen; and to the board of directors, Jack Baumgartner, immediate past president; and Dick Fitch.

All except for Al Jensen are charter members of the club which was formed just two years ago.

Jack Baumgartner, in reviewing his administration, noted the solvency of the club's treasury, the fine fellowship which had developed among club members, the number of eye glasses and examinations which the club had donated to indigent members of the community, the recent assistance given to the Hancock County Child Development Center and the three-day visitation of the Mississippi Lions Sight Van during which hundreds of free eye examinations were provided to Hancock Countians.

Upon taking the helm, I thanked the members for the honor bestowed upon me and said that I hoped to build upon the foundations laid by Jack during the two prior years.

A priority will be given to signing up new members. Expansion of the club's major fund-raiser, bingo, at the club's facility on Blaize Avenue in Bay St. Louis every Tuesday night, will be the second.

Saucier noted that the Lions Club is a truly international organization, active in 157 countries. It is the largest civic organization in the world, he added. Its emphasis is on assistance to the eye and ear impaired, but is also becoming active in fighting drug abuse and other diseases, such as diabetes.

Anyone interested in joining is invited to contact any of the Hancock County Club's officers.

Thanking you in advance, I am,
Sincerely,
Edwin R. Ling

Heart Answers

WHAT IS HARDENING OF THE ARTERIES?

A common form of hardening of the arteries is atherosclerosis. It occurs when fatty deposits in the blood-stream build up on the inner walls of the arteries. People who have atherosclerosis are more likely to suffer a heart attack or stroke. The risk of developing atherosclerosis can be reduced by observing a diet low in saturated fats and cholesterol. ### Waveland Legion Post schedules blood drawing Wednesday

August 4, 1983
Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Dear Editor:

Once again the Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post No. 77 of Waveland will sponsor a blood drawing. The drawing by the American Red Cross and Hancock County Blood Bank will take place on Wednesday, Aug. 10 from 3 to 7 p.m.

As many of you know, the Hancock County Blood Bank has a contract with Hancock General Hospital and is the only blood supplier with a contract with the local hospital.

The need is great because blood use in Hancock County, like elsewhere, is on the increase, while the number of people donating is on the decrease.

We urge all citizens between ages 17 and 65 to please help make this a successful blood drawing.

I thank each of you,

Friends offer tribute to 'unsung heroine'

In memory of Azolene Favre Thian:

A very dear friend recently died. No newspaper carried her obituary. She was one of the strongest women one could ever meet, honest and fair through every inch of her; top to toe, inside and out. She helped where she could, but stood tall when somebody tried to take advantage of her.

Her Catholic Faith piloted her through a multitude of ailments and misfortunes. Never, ever - in spite of her frailty in later years - did she turn her back on a friend. Nor ever did she cease to remember the good persons she felt she had been blessed to know and the good times she had been equally blessed to have.

Her mind embraced extensive knowledge of this world and of those who lived and live in it. She may have been the last of the Frontier Women, Ladies, in our society.

If she thought something was wrong or "smelled" - as she could put it - she'd go at it.

Her family is one of the oldest in Hancock County.

Her home and environment was full of tools, gadgets, and things that her ancestors had used and that reflected the way they lived. To each object there was a story she knew and could tell, about what it was used for and why.

To us, and possibly many more, that kind of information was a chest of gold. We just wanted to know where we are, right now. Azolene could always tell us and give us the sense of history.

In uncounted ways Azolene Favre Thian helped us and for uncounted things she should be remembered. She was A-1. When she smiled the world looked brighter. When she was mad she had a right to be. In her was a unique combination of courage and kindness.

Azolene, we miss you and we really feel in debt to you. This we know we can say on behalf of all your friends here. We liked you. We loved you.

Public outcry could still save dismembered Ma Bell

August 1, 1983
Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

The bureaucratic "Trust Busters" on the banks of the Polluted Potomac have succeeded beyond their wildest dreams!

They, aided and abetted by a federal judge, have almost dismembered the finest, most efficient and least expensive communications system in world history.

Ma Bell is in critical condition and only a massive public outcry will reverse those asinine activities by federal regulatory bureaucrats.

How in the ever lovin' blue-eyed world can they justify their actions when access (long distance) will double, triple and then quadruple?

Monthly charges will follow the same route and force many needy people to have their phones removed.

Destroying a monopoly is supposed to save customers money, not cost them additional fees.

Thank my Everloving Father that many state regulatory officials are beginning to regain consciousness and protest the fed take-over of state functions!

If enough protests are registered Ma Bell may be returned to her pristine beauty! Hurry folks!

Happy 1983,
Sid Watson OD

Separated by war brothers reunite after 45 years

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Oskar Nilsen picked up his telephone three weeks ago and heard the voice of his brother, Leif Nilsen, for the first time in 45 years.

Leif was calling his brother long distance from Scotland. He told him he would like to come to America for a visit.

Three weeks later Oskar and his wife, Margie, picked him up at the New Orleans airport and brought him home to their house on St. Joseph Street in Waveland. "We have been reminiscing ever since," Oskar said.

The brothers were born and raised in Norway.

In 1938 the two brothers were working for different shipping companies. Leif went off on a whaling factory ship for a period of six months and Oskar left on a oil tanker.

During Christmas of that year the oil tanker pulled up beside the whaler to unload supplies and fuel, water and food. The tanker took on oil from the whaling ship.

It was the last time the two brothers saw each other until they met again at the airport.

While they were on their way back home the second world war broke out and they couldn't return home because the Germans had occupied Norway.

Leif's ship pulled into New York Harbor and lay over there for three days while they waited for orders from the company and the government.

They were assigned to go to Halifax, Canada to wait for a convoy to take them to Britain.

On the way to Britain the ship was attacked and the convoy split up. The men then had to make their own way to Liverpool.

Leif was in Liverpool three days before the rest of the convoy arrived. They were then paid off and had to go to London to register to be allowed to stay in Britain.

He stayed in Liverpool for a month and was then called up to join the Norwegian Army in Scotland. The Norwegian army consisted of Norwegians who were already outside of the country and wanted to join forces to go back and fight the Germans.

In 1945 when the war was over he and his wife, whom he had met and married in Scotland, returned to Norway.

Leif's wife didn't like Norway so she went back to Scotland to obtain a work permit for her husband. When she got the permit Leif was in Scotland within three days.

He started working in construction and later took a job working for the county of St. Andrew. He remained with them for 26 years and retired last year.

In 1938 Oskar had also gone to New York Harbor there he was paid off and joined a merchant vessel.

When he arrived in Port of Spain, Trinidad, British West Indies, he joined the British-Norwegian Navy and went on the mine sweeper.

After the war he returned to the United States on an American Merchant Marine. Later he obtained work in and around New Orleans and obtained his American citizenship.

He worked in general construction until about five years ago when he was injured and forced into early retirement. At the same time they bought their house in Waveland and moved to the coast.

When the two brothers saw each other at the airport they walked right up to each other.

"The feeling when I saw my brother was hard to describe, it was wonderful," said Leif.

"We were glad and surprised," said Oskar.

"We talked about the old country and our parents," Oskar said. "The children took right to him and started calling him Uncle Leif."

LONG LOST BROTHERS—Leif Nilsen, left and his brother, Oskar Nilsen shake hands after being reunited. The two brothers who were separated during World War II, had not seen each other for 45 years. Leif called his brother long distance from Norway about three weeks ago and said he would like to come to America for a visit. His brother Oskar was more than happy to welcome him to his home on St. Joseph Street in Waveland. Louis Smolensky, Waveland Alderman, presented Leif with an honorary citizen certificate. ## Power company lists local tax payments

Mississippi Power Company's Bay St. Louis local manager Ben Benvenutti said today the utility has paid the city of Bay St. Louis $15,439 and the city of Waveland $9,742 in franchise fees for the second quarter of 1983.

Benvenutti said the payments by Mississippi Power Company are used by the cities to help pay for community services such as police and fire protection, education, streets and recreation.

The franchise payments are based on three percent of the Gulfport-based utility's gross revenues received from the sale of electricity of its retail customers in municipalities.

Mississippi Power Company's second quarter payment brings the franchise fee total for 1983 to $30,931 for Bay St. Louis and $18,717 for Waveland.

Mississippi Power Company pays a franchise fee to 52 municipalities in its 23-county service area in southeast Mississippi. The utility has paid nearly $2.3 million in franchise funds to these towns and communities during the first two quarters of 1983.

Highway Patrol names vehicle inspection chief

Master Sgt. Billy F. Wheeler of Jackson has been promoted to lieutenant and named director of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Branch of the Highway Patrol.

Wheeler says as director he plans to "work closely with" the 1,260 private sector motor vehicle inspection station operators throughout the state and the nearly 6,700 certified mechanics.

"Faulty equipment and mechanically unsafe vehicles are responsible for hundreds of accidents each year," Wheeler said. "The detection and repair of non or malfunctioning equipment through annual vehicle inspections prevents many of these types of accidents."

His promotion was announced by Col. Donald Butler, chief of patrol, following testing by a merit promotion board.

In his new position Wheeler, 48, is assistant director of the Field Operations Division of the Driver Services Bureau.

The primary objective of the Motor Vehicle Inspection (MVI) Branch is to ensure that automobiles, motorcycles, trucks, trailers and other vehicles are mechanically safe in accordance with the minimum standards of vehicle safety.

The newly named director will supervise 15 trooper/motor vehicle inspection officers, four civilian/MVI agents assigned to the patrol's nine districts and four clerical personnel in the Department of Public Safety headquarters building in Jackson.

Field personnel in the MVI Branch make unscheduled visits to inspection stations, train and certify inspector-mechanics and investigate complaints about inspection stations.

Revenues collected by the branch from operational fees and inspection sticker distribution exceeded $755,000 in 1982.

Wheeler's career with the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol began in September 1964 when he was commissioned an officer and assigned to patrol the Rolling Fork area.

Three years later he transferred to Pearl and from 1972 until 1981 served as assistant inspector of the Jackson

District. He became a district supervisor in 1981 in charge of driver services personnel.

A native of Delta City in Sharkey County, Wheeler was graduated from Lynn High School in Dossville and served from 1954 until 1957 in the United States Air Force as a Weapons Specialist. He attained the rank of staff sergeant in the Air Force.

He is a member of the Tennessee-Mississippi Sheriffs and Peace Officers Association and the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Association.

Wheeler is married to the former Hilda Russell and is the father of three children, Kathy Lowe, 24, of Jackson; Gerald Wheeler, 22, and Kim Wheeler, 14 both of Pearl.

Overeaters Anonymous meets weekly

Do you eat when you're not hungry?

Has anyone ever told you to use a little will power to stop overeating?

Do you eat sensibly when with friends but eat more when you are alone?

Does your obsession with food make you or others unhappy?

Have you tried to lose weight and fallen short of your goal?

If you have answered yes to one or all of these questions, it could mean that you are suffering from the illness of compulsive overeating.

Only you can make that decision.

Many compulsive overeaters have found a solution to their problem. They believe that compulsive overeating is a progressive illness. One that, like alcoholism, can be arrested. Overeaters Anonymous is the solution to their problem.

OA is a fellowship of men and women who meet to share their experience, strength and hope with each other in order that they may solve their common problem and help those who still suffer, so that they may recover from compulsive overeating.

There are no dues or fees for OA membership. They are self-supporting through their own contributions. The only requirement for membership is a desire to stop eating compulsively.

Overeaters Anonymous had its first meeting in January, 1960 in Los Angeles, Calif.

There are many members who have arrested their illness of compulsive overeating, living happy, fulfilled lives today at normal weight.

OA invites anyone who has the desire to stop eating compulsively to attend a meeting. Meetings in this area are at Universal Warehouse Office, 622 Victoria St., between US-90 and Old Spanish Trail Mondays at 7:30 p.m.

For information, call 467-6194 or 467-6254.

July Term Grand Jury report filed

In the Circuit Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, July 14, 1983.

We, the Grand Jury for July 1983 Term of the Court having been selected, sworn, and charged, submit the following final report:

We were empaneled July 11, 1983, and have considered cases of which we returned 50 true bills, four no true bills, none struck from the docket, three left pending to be passed to the next Grand Jury and referred seven to other courts.

The Grand Jury recommends that the January 1984 Grand Jury be furnished copies of this report as their first order of business. All county supervisors and administrators of the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland are to be furnished copies of this report as well as U.S. Senators, (Thad) Cochran and (John) Stennis; also Congressman (Trent) Lott, State Senator (Martin) Smith and Representative (J.P.) Compretta, and specifically the attorney general and executive director of the Mississippi Ethics Commission.

We feel compelled to make as our first and strongest recommendation that the duly elected supervisors of this county of Hancock read and study the findings and recommendations of this Grand Jury which we feel merit oral presentations at the first Board of Supervisors meeting following this term of court and should be part of their minutes.

CHANCERY OFFICE

We the Grand Jury would like to commend this office and its efforts to continue to have this office operate smoothly. Mr. Mike Nechaise stated we are operating in the black at this time.

We wish to recommend that the reports coming in from the Justice of the Peace offices be published.

We, also, recommend an area to be designated and marked for the handicapped, a ramp be installed for wheel chair entrance, and an elevator for the elderly and handicapped.

ELDERLY HOME

We, the Grand Jury, would like to commend Mrs. (Christine) Garcia for the clean and neat conditions of the home.

The new dishwasher has been installed and working well. The repairs to the floor tiles, recommended by the Grand Jury, have not been done to this date. We recommend that these improvements be made immediately as we feel these are a hazard to these elderly occupants.

The jury also recommends:

—the outside of the building be painted where needed;

—fans be installed in the ceilings as the air conditioner is inadequate;

—door be placed on closets with no doors;

—an intercom system and buzzer installed for occupants to use to call for assistance when needed.

We are pleased to report that the American Legion donated a flag to the Grand Jury which we will present to this home today.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE

AND JAIL

The Grand Jury wishes to commend Sheriff Ronnie Peterson, Investigators Alvin Ladner and Delbert Seay, members of the Arson Squad, and the entire staff for their outstanding job as the law enforcement official of this county.

We visited the county jail and sheriff's office. After an appearance before this Grand Jury by both the sheriff and president of the board of supervisors, we feel the following recommendations are in order:

—the smoke alarms safety features are inadequate;

—the fire extinguisher near the washing machines needs to be recharged;

—a new and larger stove in the kitchen is needed;

—the behavior modification cells needs padding;

—master key for all locks needed;

—toilet and bath facilities need to be improved;

—the board needs to take a closer look at salaries in this office and put special emphasis on salaries, especially considering the upcoming events.

With regards to the bond issue for a new jail we wish to go on record as supporters of this issue and continue sponsoring the public forum in an effort to educate the citizens of this long neglected need.

HOSPITAL

The Grand Jury was given a complete tour and presentation of the facilities by the public relations administrator, Ms. Mary Perkins, and joined at the end of the tour by the administrator, Phil Langston.

We commend the administrator and staff for providing such excellent care with the existing facilities under its present conditions.

We would like to recommend that the roof be repaired and that the ceiling tiles that are missing and damaged also be repaired.

We would like to support the administrator in his request that the board buy the land for a new hospital and the administrator submit the certificate of need for the hospital in the fall.

YOUTH COURT

The Grand Jury visited the Youth Court on July 14, 1983. Ms. Brenda Bailey gave very complete and concise presentations on the Juvenile Court and tour of the building.

We would like to recommend that the offices not relating to the juvenile welfare be moved into other county facilities at the time they become available.

FORESTRY COMMISSION

The Grand Jury would like to commend Mr. David Watts and his staff for the fine job they are doing as our Forestry Commission and also for the information presentation given to the Grand Jury with regards to controlling forest fires in our county.

This Grand Jury worked in unison and harmony in carrying out all of its duties and responsibilities. We wish to express our gratitude to the court, the district attorney's office and the county attorney for their patience, guidance and assistance.

Finally, we would like to thank the Honorable Judge (James) Thomas for the charge he gave us when we were empaneled. Our tenure has been very educational and enlightening.

Our compliments go to Mr. Pete Noto, the bailiff to the Grand Jury, he has served us faithfully.

We have completed our duties and respectfully ask to finally be discharged this 4th day of August, 1983.

SAMUEL BURTON

Bergeron building Corps of Engineers buoy barge at Port Bienville Shipyard

Ed Shearer, corporate vice president of Marketing with Bergeron Industries, Inc., reports the company continues to operate despite a depressed market.

Although new construction for the St. Bernard-based barge building firm has virtually ceased, the firm is actively engaged in repair work, overhauls and conversions both in the commercial and government sector, and in miscellaneous structural fabrication.

Bergeron Shipyard, Braithwaite, La., recently delivered the M.V. "Shaft" to Spanish Wells Harbor Construction and Transportation Company of Spanish Wells, Bahamas.

The 140' x 39' x 9' vessel is classed by the American Bureau of Shipping for manned ocean service and will be used in harbor construction work.

The craft is licensed for transportation of bulk products inter-island and from Southeast Florida to Bahamian ports.

The vessel was designed by Design Associates, Inc. of New Orleans and has quarters for a crew of six, complete galley and mess, lounge and office.

The M.V. "Shaft" has a 60' high cargo bin on the main deck with wooden decking, a bow ramp, four spuds and wells and two anchors with windlasses and chain lockers.

The M.V. "Shaft" is powered by two Harbor-master Model SW3175 propulsion units with electrical power being furnished by two Detroit Diesel Model 4-71 generators, rated 60 KW each.

In addition to the M.V. "Shaft," Bergeron Shipyard recently completed a drydocking and overhaul to the United States Coast Guard towboat "Mallet."

The overhaul included hull repainting, extensive quarters modifications and miscellaneous repairs. The New Orleans Dock Board fireboat "Deluge" was at Bergeron for its annual drydocking, including modifications to the quarters, hull repairs and painting, and has been completed and is back in service.

Bergeron Shipyard also recently was awarded the contract for major overhaul to the Coast Guard medium endurance cutter "Acushnet." The contract involves drydocking, removal of 4 existing propulsion engines and installation of 4 new engines, modification of piping systems and extensive living area modifications.

In addition, the Freeport, Texas based Coast Guard patrol boat "Point Monroe" is on the docks at Bergeron for its annual overhaul.

Bergeron Marine, Port Bienville, MS, delivered the "KC 183," a 195' x 52'-6" x 12'-0" open hopper barge with tank saddles to Kosmos Cement of Louisville, Ky.

The barge was towed to TBW Industries in Houma, La., for installation of an 1,800-ton capacity cement tank.

A 90' buoy barge is presently in the preliminary stages at the Hancock County facility and will be delivered to the Army Corps of Engineers in St. Louis.

In addition, Bergeron Marine is still active in lash barge renovations, with the facility performing work for Central Gulf Lines, Waterman Steamship and Delta Lines.

Bergeron Barges in Demopolis, Ala., is actively seeking miscellaneous structural fabrication work, along with repair work to vessels engaged in trade on the Tombigbee and Black Warrior Rivers.

"Although Bergeron has been forced to make extensive reductions in personnel due to the decreased work load, they are staying competitive in their repair and new construction pricing and, when the market returns, will be, again, one of the industry leaders," Shearer stated.

Nuptial Mass at OLG unites Ladner, Ladner

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the July 23 afternoon ceremony uniting Sherie Ann Ladner and Willard Robert Ladner in marriage.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Ladner of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Willard R. Ladner also of Bay St. Louis.

Rev. Francis Farrell officiated at the double ring ceremony and celebrated a Nuptial Mass before an altar decorated with arrangements of white carnations, baby's breath and greenery.

Musical selections were provided by Vic Frankiewicz of Bay St. Louis, organist; and vocalists Mary Kay Bordages of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the bride; Stephen Turcotte of Waveland and Kim Pittman of Hattiesburg. Offertory gift bearers were Karen Ladner of Bay St. Louis and Lynn Ladner of Kiln.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of polished organza. Silk venise lace accented the Queen Anne neckline and full bishop sleeves while venise lace appliques embroidered with seed pearls enhanced the empire bodice and A-line flared skirt. A deep flounce of Nottingham lace bordered the hemline of the full cathedral train. Her headpiece of venise lace held a waltz-length veil of illusion applied with lace. She carried a lace fan decorated with white silk roses.

Tina Ladner of Bay St. Louis, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Darlene Forte of Pass Christian was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Cyndi Hegner of New York and New Jersey, Denise Weeks of Hattiesburg, Dee Dee Ladner and Tracey Wilkerson of Bay St. Louis, all sisters of the bride; Cathy Ladner, sister-in-law of the bride; Karen Mizelle of Bogalusa, La.; Janice Quinn of LaPlace, La. and Phyllis Ladner of Bay St. Louis.

The attendants were identically attired in formal Grecian-style gowns of silesta in rainbow colors with V-neckline bodice overlaid with chiffon, split capelet sleeves and flared skirts. They carried white lace fans adorned with silk roses in colors to complement their gowns.

Chandra Ladner of Bay St. Louis and Devon Warren of Delisle, cousin of the groom, were junior bridesmaids. Courtney Weeks of Hattiesburg, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Ring bearer was Jason Hegner of New York and New Jersey, nephew of the bride.

Tabitha Wilkerson and Cooper Ladner of Bay St. Louis, niece and nephew of the bride, were miniature bride and groom.

Kent Myers served the groom as best man.

Groomsmen were Howard Ladner of Bay St. Louis, brother of the groom; Jerry Wiggins of Covington, La.; Mark Koch, Leroy R. Perron and Keith Ladner, brother of the bride, of Bay St. Louis; Walter Courtault Jr. of Waveland; James Weeks of Hattiesburg, brother-in-law of the bride; Ray Warren of Delisle; and Tony Mizelle of Bogalusa, La.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion an aqua crepe street-length dress featuring draped bodice with tiny buttons on the shoulder and three-quarter-length sleeves.

The mother of the groom was attired in a beige crepe street-length dress fashioned with a jewel neckline, highlighted by a soft ruffle extending from the shoulder to the hemline and three-quarter-length sleeves.

A reception followed the ceremony at Patio St. Louis. Tea girls were Karen Ladner, Lynn Ladner, Lisa Wilburn and Lauren Pittman. Heather Weeks of Hattiesburg, niece of the bride, distributed rice bags.

On return from a wedding trip to Nashville, Tenn. and the Great Smoky Mountains, the couple will reside in Hattiesburg.

Swede joins Waveland Mormon mission team

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Wouldn't it seem a shame to be on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico and not be able to go swimming?

Well, for two young men down here, 'sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ' it's not hard at all.

Elder Dave Speters, 20, of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Elder Joachim Krylbom, 19, of Sweden, are missionaries serving 18-months of voluntary time for their church.

The two young men belong to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. They said they don't watch TV, listen to radios, or participate in recreational activities during the period of their missionary service.

"It's a time for growing and learning," said Speters. "It's a must that we enjoy what we are doing."

The missionaries are sent all over the world. Krylbom, who speaks English very well, came all the way from Sweden to share the word.

He said he was sent to Provo, Utah for two weeks of preparation before coming to the Coast. He has been here for a week.

Speters has been on the Coast for four months.

The missionaries pay their own way, the service is voluntary not mandatory, said Speters.

Before starting his mission, Speters finished one year at the University of Utah. He said he plans on returning and finishing school when his mission is over.

Krylbom said he will return to Sweden and finish school, after that he will serve in the military for a year which is mandatory in Sweden.

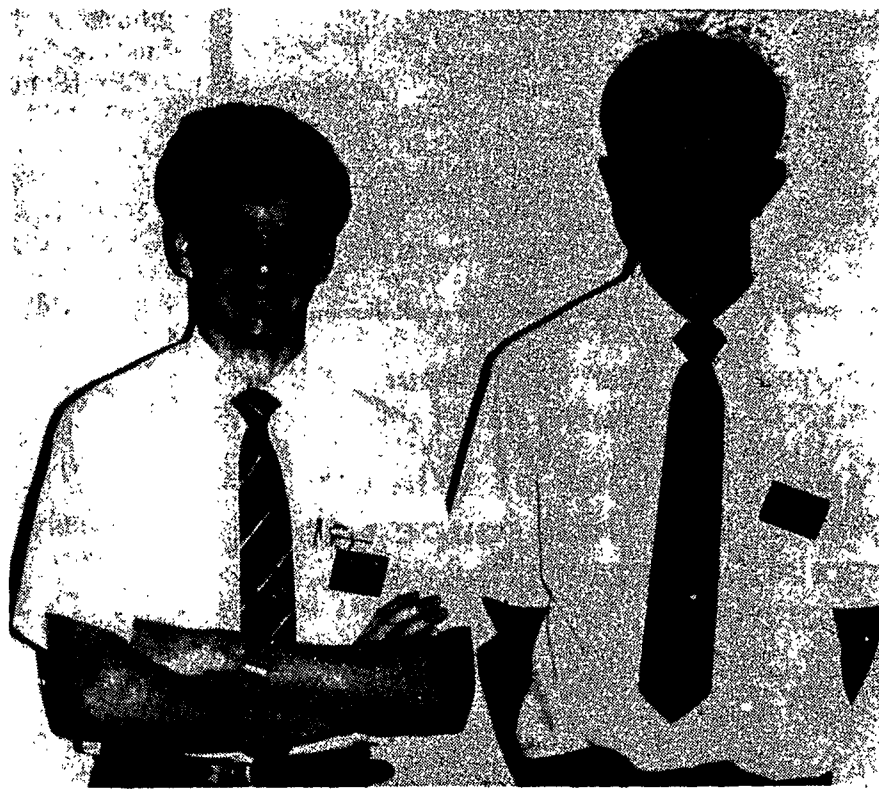

Speters, who said he has enjoyed meeting the people of the Bay-Waveland area, said, "A lot of people think we're coming to convert, but we want to share the gospel and the word of Jesus Christ." Continuing he said, "It's the spirit that converts, not us, we are just the tools."

The young men said they never know where they are going to be sent next. Their service will last for 18 months.

Wherever they are working, they will always be in twos. "Just like the disciples we're sent out two by two."

Speters said, "The Book of Mormon is a history of God's dealings with ancient American people, it covers the same period as the Bible, 600 years before Christ to 400 years after Christ."

If anyone would like to get in contact with the two missionaries they can call, 467-7875.

Catholic Church Parish News

By Fr. B.C. KELLER

Do not presume on your good name or good intentions. Look to your ancestors in the faith whose examples still can guide you. They gave themselves completely into the Lord's hands and praised his power.

We welcome back Sisters Dulcinea and Lauren. Sister Helen Marie, the new superior, will arrive in mid September. Our other newcomer, Sister Rose Martin, will arrive in late October.

The Promote Benevolent Association is having its annual turn out for church service at our 7 a.m. Mass today. They are to be commended for their concern for their deceased and sick members.

Our Little People Choir will practice Tuesday, 5:30 p.m.; the Gospel Choir, at 6:30 p.m. The Gospel Choir will sing this Thursday at the Little Zion Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. to commemorate the first anniversary of the pastor there.

Widowed parishioners are invited to meet with widowed Catholics of the diocese on Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. for a Wine and Cheese party at the Sacred Heart Center (behind Cathedral in Biloxi), 610 West Washington Street. Bring either wine or cheese and crackers. Daytime meetings are on the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month from 10 a.m. until noon.

Divorced and separated parishioners are invited to meet divorced and separated Catholics of the diocese on Monday, Aug. 15 at 7 p.m. at the Sacred Heart Center. A guest speaker will discuss the topic of Self-Esteem and how it fits into the command Jesus gave us to love your neighbor as yourself—sometimes that seems the hardest thing to do. Many times these two support groups meet together. This is true of the August meetings. So, please feel welcome to come to either or both of the above mentioned meetings.

Our parish council will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. in hall behind school. Plans will be finalized for our upcoming Parish Family Feast. Chairperson for our Fall Musical Extravaganza will be chosen. Also our parish candidate for NAACP Mother of the Year will be selected. All interested parishioners are urged to attend.

Our Altar Society will meet next Sunday in the rectory after the 9 a.m. Mass. Don't forget to mark your calendars for our Third Annual Parish Family Celebration:

—1) Pot Luck Dinner at the Seminary Gym on Saturday, Aug. 20 at 7:30 p.m.;

—2) Sister Lauren's Silver Jubilee Mass in church on Sunday, Aug. 21 at 9 a.m.;

—3) Picnic and games on our school grounds all day that Sunday beginning at noon. (No evening Mass that Sunday).

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

By Shawn Murphy

MINISTER, BAY ST. LOUIS CHURCH OF CHRIST

"When evening came, his disciples went down to the lake, where they got into a boat and set off across the lake for Capernaum. By now it was dark, and Jesus has not yet joined them. A strong wind was blowing and the waters grew rough. When they had rowed three or three and a half miles, they saw Jesus approaching the boat, walking on the water; and they were terrified. But he said to them, 'It is I; don't be afraid.' Then they were willing to take him into the boat, and immediately the boat reached the shore where they were heading."

John 6:16-21

Christ's walking on the water during the storm wasn't done to impress anyone. The astounding miracle was the act of the sovereign Lord manifesting his credentials. The occasion of the miracle was a howling storm threatening a group of frightened and needy disciples.

It's interesting that the Lord permitted his followers to be caught in the storm. His disciples aren't promised exemption from the fearful or frightening. He doesn't show favoritism, not even with his own. His own life was one of the most troubled ever lived and the disciple is not above his Master's.

But why trials, challenges and storms? Someone said if the world's greatest, most brilliant artist were idly doing a sketch to amuse a child he would put up with much less than his best.

But ask him to do what will represent his life's work, his crowning achievement, and watch how he goes to work. He pours his whole soul into it and with much care, toil and determination he pursues his goal.

Nothing is too much trouble so that his creation will bear the image of his care and love and brilliance.

To ask him not to go to so much trouble is an insult. And do you think mankind is the product of God's idle moments? You are God's masterpiece and he will go to any length to perfect you.

Thank God that Christ doesn't leave us out in the storm alone but comes to us in it. Cheering us on! Not demanding of us what we can't give or be. No, he alone is flawless. But while we can't walk on water, because He walked on the water we are enabled to wade through life!

Schwabacher. Conrad is played by Richard (Dago) Rotundo. Dan Griffin is directing and Elizabeth Holmes is producing the five-day run of the musical at the Boardman Street Playhouse, beginning with an 8 p.m. curtain Friday.

Electric breezes to waft 'Bye, Bye, Birdie' fans

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will present "Bye, Bye Birdie" Aug. 13, 14, 18, 19 and 20 at the playhouse on Boardman Avenue. Curtain times are 8:15 p.m. each evening.

"Bye, Bye Birdie," a musical set in the late 50's, portrays the problems of a rock 'n roll hero drafted by the Army.

Our hero, Conrad Birdie, played by Richard Rotundo who is well known to Little Theatre audiences, is set up in a promotional gag by his music company employer, Albert Peterson, played by Mike Hamm.

Peterson writes Birdie a final song titled "One Last Kiss."

In order to sell the song, Rosie, played by Sue Stevens, who has a long list of credits at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre and with other local theater groups, pulls Kim McAfee's name from the fan list.

Now McAfee, played by Julie Gooch, will appear with her family on the Ed Sullivan show to be serenaded by Birdie and given his last kiss.

This musical is directed by Dan Griffin. Other production staff members include Jean Keen of Diamondhead as musical director; Elizabeth Holmes, producer; Victor Frankiewicz Jr., set design; and James Holmes, technical director.

"The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre Board invites all of

WYES seeking wine donations

WYES-TV/12 is accepting donations of wine from distributors, wine shops, and individuals for "Wine Night," scheduled for Sept. 28 during the 17th Annual Showboat Auction, which will be broadcast live from the WYES studios Sept. 23-30.

Wine Night in 1982 was very successful, raising approximately $10,000, or 20 percent over retail value with 60 lots of imported and domestic wines auctioned.

Interested donors are invited to call the WYES Auction Office at (504) 486-5511 for more information or to donate.

All contributions are tax-deductible to the extent provided by law and are used to help finance Southeastern Louisiana's only public television station.

Story Hour titles listed

Pre-school children from the ages of three to six are invited to attend story hour every Thursday at 10:30 a.m. at the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis.

Story hour this week begins with "The Long Slide" by Mr. and Mrs. Smith. "Two Little Feet," a physical activity, will be performed between stories. The second book to be read is "Little Dog Lost" by Adelaide Hall.

Story hour concludes with the motion picture film, "Animal Movie."

VA Brief

Last year the all-volunteer armed forces filled their quotas with high-quality recruits and turned applicants away. Sixty percent of those accepted scored above average on the Armed Forces Qualification Test and 86 percent were high school grads. Two years before, only a quarter of Army recruits scored above average and 54 percent had finished high school.

Fall Gardening

John Davis, area horticulturist, will present this timely program on Tuesday, Aug. 9, 10 a.m. It will be held in the Agriculture Building Auditorium, 405 Necaise Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

John will discuss vegetables suitable for the fall garden, recommendations for seed germination, disease and insect control, and tips on getting the most out of the fall garden. Time will be allotted for questions and answers.

Decorator Pillows

Many of our needlework projects lend themselves well to tops for pillows which can add a real decorator note to the most mundane room. Yet too many projects never result in their best showmanship because we haven't properly made them into pillows, don't know the proper finishing techniques like cording and boxing, or how to fill them.

A program which will include a wide variety of ideas for decorator pillows will be presented on Thursday, Aug. 11, 10 a.m., in the Agriculture Building Auditorium. Books on pillow making will be given as door prizes.

Cool Summer Salads

Need some new ideas for family meals or entertaining? On Tuesday, Aug. 16, 10 a.m. in the Agriculture Building Auditorium, I will demonstrate a variety of main dish and accompaniment salads perfect for the season. The program will include lots of easy ideas, tips for tasty salads, new recipes, and taste testing.

Christmas in August

Candlewicked Christmas ornaments will be taught as a workshop on Thursday, Aug. 18, 10 a.m. in the Agriculture Building Auditorium. A very old form of embroidery utilizing French knots, outline, and satin stitches on unbleached cotton muslin, candlewicking is enjoying a tremendous revival.

Get a jump on the Christmas season by pre-registering for this class. Participants should bring a 3-inch embroidery hoop. Kits containing fabric, floss, needle and pattern will be available for participants for approximately $1.

Landscaping to Conserve Energy

Have high utility bills got you screaming "enough"? Take the first step now to lower next year's bills by attending the Landscaping to Conserve Energy program.

John Davis, Area Horticulturist, will present the program on Monday, Aug. 29, 10 a.m. in the Agriculture Building Auditorium, 405 Necaise Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

John will discuss landscaping design, site selection, and tree placement to maximize shading of walls and roofs for energy conservation. Vines and groundcovers will also be considered for their shading affect.

FIGS

Since figs have been bountiful this season, you may have ended up with more fig preserves than your family can use for breakfast. Here is a wonderful fig cake recipe to utilize the preserves you may have on hand.

FIG PRESERVE CAKE

2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 1/4 cups sugar
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup cooking oil
3 eggs
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup chopped fig preserves
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1 tablespoon vanilla

SAUCE
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup buttermilk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon soda

Sift together flour, salt, soda, cornstarch, sugar and spices in large bowl, add oil and beat well. Add eggs one at a time, beat well. Add buttermilk and beat. Stir in fig preserves, nuts and vanilla. Mix well.

SBA small business loans available to vets

Representative G. V. (Sonny) Montgomery (D-Miss.) chairman of the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs reports the U.S. Small Business Administration has funds available through September for direct loans to credit worthy small businesses.

Montgomery emphasized that a portion of these funds is earmarked for veteran loans with emphasis on disabled and/or Vietnam veterans.

"The Small Business Administration is stressing making 'quality' loans to businesses that can show a reasonable assurance of repayment, but who are unable to obtain term financing locally," Montgomery stated.

If a veteran feels his business qualifies, he is asked to contact the Small Business Administration through his local bank or directly at 322 Federal Building, 100 West Capital Street, Jackson, Miss., phone number (601) 960-4378.

According to officials at the SBA, the agency has had a limited amount of direct loan money during the last few years, "considering the numerous applications which were submitted.

Although funding is now available for direct agency loans, the SBA emphasizes that the funds are "not inexhaustible."
